JUNE IS “ OCEAN FRIENDS” MONTH !!!

CRITTER(S) OF THE WEEK

Bluestripe Butterflyfish with Hawaiian Whitespotted Toby– This is an unusual pairing as this butterflyfish is usually quite shy but his curiosity must have got the best of him here! The toby is small but mighty and his scientific name, “Canthigaster “, actually means “boaster”, or “braggart”. Tobys usually occur in pairs so maybe this guy lost his buddy and is checking out the butterfly fish...??? Both are endemic to Hawaii.
