PICTURE OF THE WEEK!

HAWAIIAN GREEN SEA TURTLE (“honu”) - There are turtles EVERYWHERE! They are buzzing us, following us and making themselves hard to avoid! It is against the law to even slightly touch a turtle or prohibit their movement . They seem to know they are protected. They are not afraid of divers! Most turtles in Hawaii are breed in the remote northwestern Hawaiian Islands. Mature animals weigh between 200 and 400 pounds.

Can you tell a male from a female?????
